We are RealWorld Protective Services and Firearms Training, LLC. Our company provides a wide range of firearms training and a full service investigations division, licensed and bonded, in Arizona and California.

Instructor's profile

Whether it is how to handle a gun or store it safely, everything taught in one of RealWorld Firearms Training's classes is grounded in decades of experience.

Founder, Robert Martin, has worked as a civilian police officer and military law-enforcement officer, certified executive protection agent, licensed investigator, and he has trained and carried guns for more than 30 years

Likewise, his fellow instructor, Andy Gates, spent six years as a sergeant in the US Marine Corps. Both hold NRA instructor certifications, DPS certified instructors, and are Range Safety Officers, which come in handy during courses such as basic handgun training, CCW, or tactical carbine classes.

For training in the real world, call us and experience the difference!
